CARROLL.

Wes Ogden of Carrollton has sold his hotel to E. L. Porter and will move to California for the benefit of his health.

A fox hound belonging to Wm. Fox of Tina was struck by a freight train Friday and the remains can be found from Tina to Bridge creek.

A. M. Faulk, a highly-respected citizen, died of heart trouble at his home, five miles northeast of Carrollton, Wednesday. A wife and a large family of children survive him.

Mrs. C. E. Shaw of Carrollton received the sad intelligence Monday that her son, William, had died in Fort Collins, Colo., Sunday night. Deceased was 37 years of age and leaves a wife and two children.

The residence of Dr. H. W. Tull of Carrollton was burglarized Saturday night and about $120 was stolen from the doctor's pockets. If he had been an editor he would have escaped this sad misfortune.

Mrs. Mary F. Clingenpeel, aged 47 years, died at the home of Mrs. Wm. Allen in Parsons, Kas., Monday. Deceased was a former resident of Norborne and her remains were shipped to that place Tuesday morning for interment.

Billy Fox of Tina, had to shoot a faithful old mare the other day. He was hauling a load of corn across a low bridge when one of the horses became unruly and pushed the other one off, crushing her thigh so that death was the only relief.

Mrs. Anna Roy Wightman was born, near Niagara Falls, Canada, January 28, 1806, and died at her home, near Plymouth, last Friday afternoon at the advanced age of 101 years. Mrs. Wightman retained all of her faculties until a short time before her death, having received her second sight in her old age.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hayler of Wakenda have just returned from Kansas City with their son who was suffering with bone erysipelas. They had his entire lower jaw bone removed. The little fellow stood the operation real well and is getting along nicely.

Herman David was born in Germany March 5, 1833, and died at his home in Carrollton last Friday morning. Deceased was one of the pioneer citizens of Carrollton, having been engaged in the mercantile business for more than half a century. He was an honorable member of the Masonic lodge. His remains were taken to St. Louis for interment.

Judge Fox of the supreme court of Missouri rendered an opinion Tuesday in the case of Roy Charles, the absconding circuit clerk of Carroll county in which he holds that Charles' bondsmen can not be held for the amount of the bond and costs in the case. It will be remembered that Charles embezzled nearly $4,000 from Carroll county, $700 of this amount remains unpaid, but Charles had already pleaded guilty, thereby throwing the responsibility on the court.

MARRIAGES.

Edgar J. Doyle and Miss Nellie C. King, both of Hale.

Harvey B. Douglas and Miss Ora A. Leaton, both of Hale.

Clarence Montgomery and Miss Anna L. Jenkins, both of Norborne.

Everett Grimes of Carrollton and Miss Florence E. Prout of Wakenda.

HOWARD.

Will Hughes of Steinmetz lost an icehouse by fire Monday.

Geo. Erdle of Steinmetz fell from a shed Thursday, cutting his lips in a frightful manner.

The foot ball game between Pritchett College and Slater at Glasgow was won by the Slater boys by a score of 15 to 0.

Gordon Patterson of the Steinmetz neighborhood sold his 140-acre farm to A. F. Heying. The price paid was $80 an acre.

H. G. Stuttmund, a former resident of Glasgow, has just been elected to the legislature from the new state, Oklahoma, and his Glasgow friends are happy.

The Glasgow Missourian says that there is a merchant in Fayette, who hasn't time to read the papers. This same merchant uses a rubber stamp on his stationery.

The Central Missouri poultry show was held at Fayette last week. A fine exhibition was made. D. T. Humblish, one of the best of chicken judges, placed the awards.

The officers of the little steamer, "Silber," are strenuously denying the report, says the Glasgow Missourian, that the boat has to tie up and get up steam every time she blows her whistle.

Mrs. Cornelia Maddox of Glasgow was granted a divorce in the Howard circuit court last week. The basis on which she obtained the release of the matrimonial shackles was a trifling, drunken, non-supporting husband.

A suspect was arrested on the streets of Glasgow Saturday. He answered the description of a prisoner that had escaped from the Joliet penitentiary and admitted that he was the man. An officer from Illinois arrived Monday and soon discovered that the wrong man was in custody.

At a Roanoke church a few Sundays since, the choir sang, "The half has never yet been told." After which the preacher arose and said slowly: "No, no, the half has never been told." A sprightly, pretty young Miss said, "If he can not talk any faster, I hope he is not going to tell us the other half now."

The Glasgow Missourian in writing up an amateur performance at the opera-house at that place Monday night leaves one to surmise a little. It says: "Some of the actors and actresses displayed marked talent and carried off their parts most creditably." The display may be all right, but where they carried off their parts you are left to guess.

A mass-meeting of the physicians of Howard county was held Monday at Fayette. The purpose was the organization of a "Society for the prevention and Cure of Tuberculosis." Dr. William Porter of St. Louis addressed the assembly. The movement was started by the Howard County Medical society, which has for its membership the leading physicians of the county.

A customer went into a Glasgow drug store the other day and asked the druggist for a pound of sulphur. He asked the druggist what it was worth and when told the price was 10c per pound he proceeded to kick and told the druggist he could go to Chicago and get the sulphur from a mail order house for 8c per pound, whereupon the druggist promptly told him he could go to hell and get it for nothing.

MARRIAGES

Elliott McCrary and Miss Salie Miller, both of Glasgow.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

A Pure, Wholesome, Reliable Cream of Tartar Baking Powder

The cream of tartar used in Dr. Price's Baking Powder is derived from grapes in the exact form and composition in which it occurs in that luscious, healthful fruit

LIVINGSTON.

An Anti-Saloon league was formed at Chillicothe Friday at which numbers of people from all parts of the county were present. It was decided to hold the county election first and the Chillicothe city election afterwards.

Sunday afternoon the ladies of Chillicothe organized a Local Option league and elected officers. The meeting was largely attended and was a most enthusiastic one. This organization means that the women of Chillicothe are going to be a factor in the local option campaign.

Chas. Holden, a farmer, gave the ladies of the M. E. church at Ludlow a load of corn if they would gather it. Tuesday afternoon two loads of woman and girls went out to the field with two wagons and came back in about two hours with both wagons full of corn and there was not a man in the crowd either.

Mrs. Jennie O'Mally of Chillicothe has filed suit in the circuit court for $10,000 damages against the Burlington railroad for the death of her husband, Martin O'Mally. The accident that resulted in the death of O'Mally occurred last fall, near the Burlington and Wabash crossing. O'Mally was employed on the section. He was hard of hearing and one afternoon was run down by a passenger train and almost instantly killed. The plaintiff alleges negligence on the part of the defendant company's employees. The case will come up for a hearing at the January term of the circuit court.

Aaron Walker, a young man 20 years old, has been made defendant in an awful crime. He is charged with ruining Clemmie Gann, a 12 year-old girl of Jackson township, Livingston county. The girl is soon to become a mother and alleges the crime was committed last spring, but an investigation was not begun until last September, when the child confessed her condition to her step-mother, Mrs. Winnie Walker, who is a relative of the accused. While the authorities were investigating the case young Walker disappeared and went to Oklahoma and was followed by other members of the family. The officers have been working on the case and only recently learned the whereabouts of Walker. When he was located, word was sent to the authorities to place him under arrest. Prosecuting Attorney Orr has forwarded requisition papers to Governor Folk and as soon as they return, Sheriff Yermans will leave for Oklahoma to take charge of the prisoner. Walker will be brought back to Chillicothe and confined in the county jail until the January term of the circuit court. The crime with which Walker is charged is one of the most serious offenses on the Missouri criminal calendar. LATER; Reports state that young Walker made his escape from the county jail at Coweta, Okla., where he was confined. No particulars are given as to how he made his "get-away."

MARRIAGES

A. D. Sturges and Mrs. Emma Clayton, both of Chillicothe.

LINN.

A little boy at Marceline, after watching the guests at the table Thanksgiving day, remarked; "Now I know why they call it 'gobbler.'"

Will Traux, a former resident of Brookfield, died at his home in Wilmington, Del., Thursday. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn his death.

George McClelland of the Union church neighborhood, Linn county, is the champion corn raiser in that neck-o'-woods. His corn is making from 65 to 100 bushels an acre.

Peter Felt, a Laclede grain dealer, has placed $20,000 in the Wheeling bank for the purchase of corn in that vicinity. The price offered is and the farmers are busy hauling king corn to that place.

Fred Moore, a farmer employee of the Superior Stacker factory at Linneus, was killed at Centerville, Iowa, Sunday night. Mr. Moore was run down by an engine and badly mangled. Death was instantaneous. The deceased was 22 years old and his parents resided at Purdin, where the body was buried Tuesday.

Dr. Gus Pratt of Linneus, who has been in poor health for several years past, has not been expected to live for the past week having had hemorrhages several times. The relatives, including a daughter, Mrs. Meredith of Gibbs, Mo., the son, Claude, the sisters, Mrs. Thorne of Linneus and Mrs. Maynard of Kansas City, as well as John Pratt, a brother of Salisbury, have all been at the bedside since last Thursday—Brookfield Argus.

Up to the present day of conflict with turkey, it seems that the 41-pound gobbler sold a short time ago by J. F. McAllister to Fell & Co., is the king bird of the season. Discussing turkeys the other day, however, Rev. J. F. Mesner told a pretty good wild turkey story. It was many years ago when Mr. Wild Turkey claimed North Missouri as his home and felt his keeping as he fattened upon the products of this rich soil, that Rev. Mesner killed a wild turkey gobbler that weighed 28 pounds after it was dressed. This was, perhaps, the biggest native Thanksgiving bird ever bagged in these parts.—Linneus Bulletin.

MARRIAGES.

MINTER & LAMKIN, Keytesville

Frank Lairly of near Middle Grove, who was operated on some time ago for appendicitis and was thought to be getting along nicely, suffered a rupture of the bowels Wednesday and died in a few hours.

The residence of Dr. J. H. Davidson of Higbee was totally destroyed by fire Monday night. The fire had gained great headway when the doctor awoke and they were only able to save a few of their household goods. The loss is estimated at $1,100. Insurance, $700.

Jesse Turner, a Moberly negro who is in the employ of the Wabash railroad, was struck on the head one day last week by one of the heavy weights from the coal chutes. The weight fell a distance of 15 feet and fortunately struck him on the head. Had it struck him on the "shin bone" he would probably have died.

MARRIAGES.
